The Deck
Involved in this bedroom, a pair of vintage ottomans from Robert Mueseler are covered in a Chateau fabric. The adjacent bath features an array of small landscape paintings, and shell hangings. (shown) A rug from Stark, a French wall covering on the ceiling, and sconces from Vaughan are pivotal additions to the lower-level lounge/billiards room. See Resources.

BEDROOM
OXFORD DESIGN STUDIO
Along with design colleague Tate Casper, Oxford Design Studio's Jordan Winston "wanted to pay homage to the casual, yet sophisticated historic Hamptons homes that emerged alongside the local fishing villages in years past, so we worked with a palette of denim blues and soft greens, as well as neutral tones that evoke laid-back luxury." But there's an element of surprise here, too: a Louis XVI canopy from Objects of Desire and a collection of late-1800s French bamboo mirrors that "create a quiet dynamic."

LOWER-LEVEL LOUNGE/BILLIARDS ROOM
MELANIE ROY DESIGN
Textured hand-painted walls by Boudin Painters and a custom pool table from Blatt Billiards give an undeniably metallic sheen to designer Melanie Roy's lower-level lounge/billiards room. Adding additional pizzazz: A John Proctor light sculpture from Todd Merrill Studio and a Florentine mirror from Zeta Studio, as playful and whimsical as they are elegant.
