Along with design colleague Tate Casper, Oxford Design Studio's Jordan Winston "wanted to pay homage to the casual, yet sophisticated historic Hamptons homes that emerged alongside the local fishing villages in years past, so we worked with a palette of demure blues and soft greens, as well as neutral linens that evoke laid-back luxury." But there's an element of surprise here, too: a Louis XVI canapé from Objects of Desire and a collection of late-1800s French bamboo mirrors that "create a quirky dynamic." The nightstand lamps are from Vaughan.

In the ensuite bath, Oxford Design Studio continued the historic nautical theme with original artwork and accessories to complement the Kohler fixtures and Nemo Tile featured in the design.
